LABORATORY AND ARCHIVAL RESEARCH PROJECTS

- 2017- Processing and Curation of the Fort Tombecbe Archaeological Collection,
2021 for the Black Belt Museum, the University of West Alabama.
Mercyhurst University archaeology students, under my guidance, processed and curated the Fort Tombecbe archaeological collection (AD 1736-present). These activities included proper identification, sorting, bagging, and tagging, as well as the creation of an Access Database, database entry, and reboxing of artifacts. The loan of this collection allowed for independent student research initiatives providing undergraduates with marketable collections management skills.

- Summer & Fall 2015 Special Student Researcher, Gulf State Park Reconstruction Project, University of Alabama's Center for Economic Development.
Hired to write and create interpretive materials for park signs and museum and artifact displays. Duties included research to gain familiarity with the culture history of Baldwin County, Alabama, and the Gulf Coast in general, to gain a familiarity with past archaeological projects at the park, to design and write interpretive signs for redesigned park areas, and to investigate the possibility of Native village reconstruction within the park.
- 2012-2014 Fort St. Pierre Archaeological Project, Laboratory Supervisor.
Trained a total of 46 lab volunteers in proper collections curation and management, working with 18th and 19th century collections. Activities included proper identification, sorting, bagging, and tagging, and return of the collection to its official curation facility.
- Summer 2011 Archeological Technician at the Southeast Archeological Center, National Park Service, Tallahassee, Florida. Artifact cataloging, proofing, report writing, Phase III excavations.
- Spring & Summer 2010 Illinois State Archaeological Survey (ISAS, formerly ITARP), Wood River, IL.
Pre- and post-contact artifact washing, sorting, labeling, bagging, and tagging.
Archaeology Lab Technician.
- Fall 2009 Volunteer Lab Technician, St. Antoine's Project, New Orleans, Shannon Lee Dawdy, PhD, University of Chicago.
Duties include artifact sorting by material and class, identification.
- 2003-2009 Fort St. Joseph Archaeological Project, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, MI.
Project Staff Laboratory Technician.
Duties included supervising field school students to wash, sort, bag, tag, and identify pre- and post-contact artifacts.

FIELD EXPERIENCE—PRE-CONTACT

- June 2021 Phase III excavations of Oneota cultural period Koshkonong Creek Village Site (47JE0379). University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee's archaeological field school. Seth Schneider, director. Archaeological Field Technician.
- Dec 2010 Phase I survey of pre-contact and post-contact landmass in southern Indiana. Commonwealth Cultural Resource Group (CCRG, now Commonwealth Heritage Group—CHG), Jackson, MI office. Archaeology Field Technician.

- Spring & Summer 2010 Phase III excavations of Mississippian residential and cultural deposits affiliated with the nearby Cahokia Mounds complex. River Crossing Project, East St. Louis, IL. Illinois State Archaeological Survey (ISAS, formerly ITARP), Wood River, Illinois office. Archaeology Field Technician.
- Aug-Sept 2009 Phase I survey of prehistoric and historic landmass in Erlanger, KY. Commonwealth Cultural Resource Group (CCRG, now Commonwealth Heritage Group—CHG), Jackson, MI office. Archaeology Field Technician.

FIELD EXPERIENCE—POST-CONTACT

- Summer 2024 Camp Watts Alabama Civil War Conscription Camp #1, AUM Archaeological Field School. Director of AUM Archaeological Field School, Co-Director of the Camp Watts Archaeological Project searching for the remains of Camp Watts in Notasulga, Alabama. Archaeological work conducted per a request by the property owner. Fieldwork instruction included systematic metal detecting surveys, shovel testing, soil coring, geophysics, and unit excavations. Lab work included instruction on identifying lithics, Native ceramics, Anglo-European and Asian ceramics, metals, glass, and review of NAGPRA processes.
- Summer 2019 Jackson Farmstead, Mercyhurst Archaeological Field School. Co-Director of the Mercyhurst summer field school at the farmstead site located in Spring Creek, Warren County, PA. Site is a representative northwestern-Pennsylvanian farmstead site associated with Robert H. Jackson, U.S. Supreme Court Justice, and prosecutor for the WWII Nuremburg Trials. Archaeological work conducted per a request by the Robert H. Jackson Law Center, New York, and the local community. Fieldwork included modified-pedestrian survey, shovel testing, soil coring, and excavation units.
- Summer 2018 Custaloga Town (1750-1760s) Mercyhurst Archaeological Field School. Co-Director of the Mercyhurst summer field school at the Seneca-Delaware village known as Custaloga Town, near Carlton, Pennsylvania. The site is also the burial place of the prominent Seneca leader Gwaysuta. Archaeological work conducted per a request by the Seneca Nation of Indians. Metal detecting was incorporated into the field methods and yielded a significant volume of artifacts that amplified earlier discoveries from geophysics and subsurface testing.
- Fall 2016 Two Phase III excavation projects at contiguous Euro-American homestead sites that changed hands to African American ownership following the Civil War. Both sites are in Hinds County, Mississippi. Field Director and Principal Investigator.

- Summer 2016 Phase II and Phase III excavations at two historic Euro-American homestead sites in Jackson County, Alabama. Projects included evaluation of partially standing original 1800s architecture. Field Director and Principal Investigator.
- Spring 2016 Phase III excavations at Old Mobile, near Mobile, Alabama. Hired to work on the largest French settler house in the city of Old Mobile. Archaeology Field Technician.
- Spring 2016 Phase III excavations at the Holy Ground Red Stick Creek site, near Selma, Alabama. Excavations funded by the Poarch Band of Creek Indians. Features included Creek log cabins. Archaeology Field Technician.
- Spring 2015 Phase II investigations at Rickwood Baseball Field, Birmingham, Alabama under the auspices of the University of Alabama Museums. Rickwood is the oldest extant baseball field in the US, and it was desegregated in the 1960s. Investigations compared the material cultural remains of segregation, consumer options, and self-identity of the spectators. Volunteer Field Technician.
- Summer 2014 Phase II investigations of Drake's Salt Works Site (16WN30), Winn Parish, Louisiana, with the University of Alabama. Archaeology Field Technician.
- Summer 2013 Phase III excavations, Milwaukee County Institution Grounds Poor Farm Cemetery Removal Project, University of Milwaukee—Wisconsin's Historic Resource Management Services (HRMS)—now the Archaeological Research Laboratory Center's UWM-CRM. Archaeology Field Technician for human osteological remains and associated burial goods.
- April 2013 Phase III excavations of early French Colonial remains at Old Mobile, Mobile, Alabama, University of South Alabama. Volunteer Field Technician.
- May 2012 Phase III excavations of 18th Century French and Spanish remains of Fort Tombecbe (Tombigbee), Epes, Alabama, University of West Alabama. Volunteer Field Technician.
- Aug 2011 Phase III excavations for National Park Service at French Fort Rosalie, Natchez, Mississippi, 18th-century French military post site. Archaeology Field Technician.
- Spring & Summer 2010 Phase III excavations of 19th and 20th century residence and farm site, Godfrey, Illinois. Illinois State Archaeological Survey (ISAS, formerly ITARP), Wood River, Illinois office. Archaeology Field Technician.

- 2008 Phase I survey at 19th C homestead and precontact Native village site in southwest Michigan. Western Michigan University. Volunteer Archaeology Field Technician.
- 2006 Teaching Assistant for WMU Archaeological Field School, Niles, Michigan. Fort St. Joseph Archaeological Project (20BE23). Duties included assisting new field school students with standardized excavation techniques, proper record keeping and lab techniques, mentoring students, and teaching public archaeology skills.
- 2005 Finding Fort Miami Project, a phase I and II survey, urban park setting, City of St. Joseph, Michigan. Uncovered 19th and 20th century occupation. Crew Chief with 5-10 field technicians.
- 2004 Archaeology Field School, Niles, Michigan. Fort St. Joseph Archaeological Project (20BE23). French colonial military and trading post, occupied 1691-1781. Student excavator.

PUBLIC EDUCATION AND OUTREACH EXPERIENCE

- 2019 Careers from Anthropology.
Dec. Presentation delivered six times to 7th and 8th graders from the Corry Area School District for their “Experience on Career Street” speaker series. Main presentation focus was exposing students to anthropology and archaeology careers, plus related careers in the field of history, museum studies, and social sciences.
- 2019 Ask an Archaeologist, Fort St. Joseph Archaeological Project, Niles, Michigan.
Aug. Invited position as archaeological expert to run the “Ask an Archaeologist” booth at the Fort St. Joseph Archaeological Project’s Open House event, Saturday and Sunday.
- 2019 STEAM meets Archaeology.
April Presentation delivered to 4th and 5th grade girls participating in the Full STEAM Ahead Program, sponsored by Millcreek Education Foundation, Millcreek, Pennsylvania. Presentation concluded with a student exercise designed and directed by me, in which the participants used material culture knowledge from their homes to compare to the material culture of their groupmates and determine general archaeological and anthropological consumer patterns and observations. Exercise involved drawing, coloring, labeling, discussion, analysis, and concluding discussions highlighting connection to modern-day archaeology.

2019 Creating Classes with No Available Textbook.

April Presentation and facilitated discussion for Mercyhurst University's Center for Teaching Excellence Lunchtime Series. Series goal is continuing professional development as a teacher. Available to any interested faculty and staff.

2019 Dig into Erie's Past, Mercyhurst University.

April A Public Archaeology and Geology Day in which citizens of Erie bring their antiques and finds to the event for identification and interpretation. My role as historical archaeologist was to identify all post-contact items brought to the event.

2018 Biology, Race & Culture.

Dec. Presentation delivered to Wayside Presbyterian Church's Adult Sunday School Class "Issues of Faith," Erie, Pennsylvania. Presentation concluded with a question, answer, and discussion period.

2018 Dig into Erie's Past, Mercyhurst University.

April See description above.

2018 French Creek Heritage Event, Cochran, Pennsylvania.

July A two-day event commemorating Pontiac's Rebellion and the French colonial activities of the Cochran, Pennsylvania area. My role as historical archaeologist specializing in colonial activities was to speak to the public about French and Native relations in the area. Mercyhurst also provided activities for children including excavation boxes, coloring pages, and hand-print cave art.

2017 French Creek Heritage Event, Cochran, Pennsylvania.

July A two-day event commemorating the French and Indian War Battle activities surrounding the Cochran, Pennsylvania area. My role as historical archaeologist specializing in colonial activities was to speak to the public about French military activities and hastily built palisaded forts. Mercyhurst also provided activities for children including excavation boxes, mapping exercises, and coloring pages.

2008 Fort St. Joseph Museum Intern, Niles, Michigan.

-2009 Duties included contributing to ongoing public archaeology program focused on the fort; developing initiatives to heighten the Project profile within community; conducting public education; speaking at various events; engaging in community outreach; and recruiting financial supporters for the Project. Completing grant requirements including final edits of an informational DVD, organizing, and executing artifact and panel displays at the 2009 Kalamazoo Living History Trade Fair, composing operating procedures for organizing and executing future Fort St. Joseph Open House events. Additional duties included interacting with avocational project volunteers.

2008 Public Outreach Coordinator for Fort St. Joseph Archaeology Project Open House.

Duties included applying and executing a Michigan Humanities Grant to plan, organize, advertise, and execute the Open House event featuring in-progress excavation units, an Outdoor Museum, and a Living History Village with over 100 professional historical re-enactors. Also, organizing guest speakers, informational booths, sales booths, artifact displays, informational museum panels, and a children's crafts and learning area. The event, free and open to the public, was attended by close to 1,500 people in two days.

2007 Public Education Coordinator for the Fort St. Joseph Archaeological Project in conjunction with the Fort St. Joseph Museum, in Niles, Michigan.

Created a new curriculum for three one-week archaeology summer camps for local teenagers, Continuing Education adults, and a for-credit course for teachers' certification. Duties included teaching a classroom component in the mornings and supervising field excavation activities at the Fort site in the afternoon.

2007 Public Outreach Coordinator for Fort St. Joseph Archaeology Project Open House.

See job duties described above. This was the first year for the Outdoor Museum, the Children's Activity Area, and a full-sized Living History Village which included demonstrations of cooking, ceramic throwing, traditional musketry, colonial music, dancing, and storytelling. This event was free to the public and was attended by 1,500 visitors.

2006 Committee Chair to organize the Fort St. Joseph Archaeology Open House at the excavations.

Aug. This was the first time the Open House was held during a weekend to allow for greater access to the site by the public. Duties included organizing, planning, and executing the Open House event along with a catered, tented VIP Invitational Event. Excavation units were on display and living historians re-enacted as musicians, voyageurs, and soldiers. This event was free to the public and was attended by roughly 800 people.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

I am familiar with the following computer programs: Blackboard, Desire2Learn, Microsoft Teams, Zoom, SPSS, Archaeology Statistics (BASP) = Bonn Archaeological Software Package, Microsoft Word, Power Point, Excel, Adobe Access, Photoshop, InDesign, and ArcGIS. I speak and read English and Spanish and can read French.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL ACTIVITIES

Spring 2018 Partnered with the Digital History class.

Artifacts recovered from Fort St. Pierre, in Vicksburg, Mississippi, were used by the Digital History students to create short artifact documentary videos. The Fort St. Pierre 300th Anniversary Celebration website administrator is in the process of uploading the video shorts. My role was to provide research materials for the students, to guide them through the narration process and to check their historical accuracy.

Spring 2018 Partnered with the Graphics Design Art class.

A team of four students created logos for the Fort St. Pierre 300th Anniversary Celebration and presented them as they would in a business-client situation. My role was to introduce them to the history of the fort site, and to the Native peoples living there in the past. I also instructed them on cultural sensitivity with regards to images and stereotypes. These logos can now be used in future public archaeology events to represent the anniversary project.

Summer 2014 Sponsored Researcher for Office of the Dean of Arts & Sciences. Authored report titled: A Record Hiring Year for UA's College of Arts & Sciences? The University of Alabama in a Comparative Study of Hiring Volumes.

2005-2006 Member of interdepartmental "Shared Waters" committee. Purpose of committee was to bring the Shared Waters Museum Exhibit to Western Michigan University's Waldo Library. Duties included hiring of re-enactors for the opening ceremonies; designing, creating, and implementing all the accoutrements for the birch bark canoe display; and creating and designing the excavation information and promotional materials.
